

Managerial Commentary – Q3 2018

Introduction

Summer months continue to be very busy at the Aurora Cultural Centre with summer camps transforming the activities and energy in the building. This year we launched our first all day visual art camps and all day theatre camps. Both had interest from the community and we will continue to develop those opportunities. We hired four enthusiastic visual arts students in university Masters and undergrad programs, and a high school student for the summer. We also engaged a theatre practitioner to act as instructor for the theatre camps.

September started with various rental activities and getting the season up and running with our new Professional Arts Season brochure. We launched the brochure at the Town of Aurora Multicultural Festival in early September. This brochure was also distributed in the Auroran to the immediate community and in the Globe & Mail to residents in York, Durham and Simcoe regions.

We continue to work with Town staff on the Town’s Cultural Partners Review and their plans for Library Square to help build detail that might be useful to decision-making.

REBECCA LAST

August 11 - September 29, 2018

Large scale acrylic paintings of environmental power - speaking to our complex interconnectedness with the natural world. Relating experiences of exposure to the elements at her Rice Lake studio, Rebecca Last's exhibition Cassandra's garden; tracing shifted ground reminds us of our deeply rooted psychological ties to landscape and how profoundly we are reshaping them. Already evidenced in the 1840's by the early Canadian settler and botanist Catharine Parr Traill, who also lived and worked at Rice Lake, and described in detail the altering of the area's forests, grasslands and waterways. These paintings, grounded in observation and place, are not literal landscapes. Through myth and memory, Last ties our own experiences of nature to the visual, sharing the metaphor of garden, rich in cultural significance, to the ancient seer Cassandra who might offer reflection as we consider how we cultivate our landscapes and manipulate the geography of our planet.

JANINE WHEELER

August 11 - November 24, 2018

Abstracted paintings – glazes of paint and dry media manipulate the eye and mind. A reflection on the creation process relating to physical and imagined spaces. A refreshing paint exhibition for the fall season, the Centre welcomes Janine Wheeler with her abstracted paintings. Glazes of paint on synthetic Yupo* paper, and multiple washes on panel and canvas, manipulate the eye and mind, creating reflections of physical and imagined spaces. Janine Wheeler's process of creation becomes another tool and method of her painting aesthetic. Creating bushy forms of paint emerge from and recede into the surface, nodding to a surreal world of imagined foliage-like masses. Smooth and painterly, yet leafy and textured, organic and yet conjured. Fluid glazes of paint are layered to achieve a meditative space, for both the eyes and mind to wander, rest, and contemplate. Truthful to both the creative process and the imagery it hints to, mirroring one's own slippery and sublime connection with nature.

IN SUMMARY

Thank you to our sustaining partner, the Town of Aurora and all our sponsors, donors and volunteers who help the staff and Board activate this venue for use by the community. Community events like Doors Open and Culture Days are so important to what we do in concert with the professional programming and education classes. We were proud to host the Scarborough Model Railroaders and Shaw Percussion at the events to bring more awareness to how one can be involved in their community and with the arts.

Strategies:

- Address Administrative and Resource Requirements to Implement the Plan
- Build and Sustain Public, Private and Community Partnerships

The Aurora Cultural Centre has a strong relationship with the Town in the Provision of Cultural Services agreement. Through relationship management, has continued to build alliances and partnerships with the Town departments and within the cultural sector.

Strategic Direction 2: Expand Culture’s Role in Economic Development

Strategies:

- Leverage Cultural and Heritage Resources to Support Downtown Revitalization
- Grow Aurora’s Creative Cultural Industries
- Expand Tourism

The programs at the Aurora Cultural Centre define the professional performing and visual art programming for the community. Establishing strong artistic programming in both presentation and education has drawn patrons from across York, Simcoe, Dufferin, and the Greater Toronto Region to the programming. This supports tourism objectives and promotes Aurora as a community with vibrant artistic and cultural services for employers and employees to enjoy. It further supports indirect economies in retail, restaurants, transportation, and travel industries.

Strategic Direction 3: Build a Strong and Vital Cultural Sector

Strategies:

- Strengthen Collaboration Among Cultural and Heritage Groups
- Increase Awareness of Cultural Resources
- Build on Current Activities to Strengthen Festivals and Events

The Aurora Cultural Centre is a hub of activity for Arts and Culture with the facility being used for cultural activities by a variety of artistic and culturally specific groups; and its professional staff being recognized and sought out to participate throughout York Region and beyond in policy discussions, cultural leadership opportunities, and other events that grow cultural industries and outcomes.

Strategic Direction 4: Enhance Access to Cultural Resources

Strategies:

- Respond to the Cultural Aspirations of an Increasingly Diverse Community
- Promote Participation in Cultural Activities Across the Community
- Address the Needs of Youth and Seniors in the Community

As seen in the above programming, the Aurora Cultural Centre responds to diversity in many forms including presentation in our professional series across ethnicities, cultural boundaries, genres of art, and age to include youth, adults and seniors.

Town of Aurora Music Strategy

Strategic Direction 1: Support an environment friendly to music creators

Strategies

- Promote professional education programs
- Access to rehearsal space for artists
- Fair compensation for performers

The Aurora Cultural Centre enables all three of these areas. Professional and community artists use the resources of the venue to practice and perform, and the expertise of ACC staff to learn about the business of the arts. The Aurora Cultural Centre pays all professional artists at fair market rate for a performing arts hall of comparable size. Artists receive fair compensation, hospitality, and travel & accommodation (when applicable) as is the best practice for the industry. While our music training at the Centre is limited to pre-professional adult classes in string instruments, the for profit music schools use the venue to rehearsal and showcase their artists. There is also a new opportunity for Aurora graduating youth to perform as part of the Mayor's Celebration of Youth Arts in February annually.

Strategic Direction 2: Encourage the business of Music in Aurora Strategies

- Bylaws and regulation
- Creation of a business networking website
- Access to civic venues and Town-sponsored programs
- Creation of a physical music hub

The Aurora Cultural Centre operates out of the Town owned Heritage facility, 22 Church Street which is an open venue for use by the community. Brevik Hall is used most often for musical activities however we have hosted events in almost every corner of the facility. Free community events often host community and professional groups to showcase talent and culturally specific art forms for the community to explore, try, and better understand the complexity and diversity of our artistic community. The Aurora Cultural Centre currently serves as a cultural hub where music plays year round. As the Town contemplates adding infrastructure to the facility, Aurora Cultural Centre staff (along with other cultural partners) have participated in roundtable discussions with Town staff and consultants on operational and programming opportunities to enable synergies between community, professional, youth, student, and various disciplines that will find themselves in the space at a given time.

Strategic Direction 3: Promote Aurora's music scene locally Strategies:

- Music Tourism

The Aurora Cultural Centre has created a relationship with the Town of Aurora to promote all events through the Town of Aurora's Program Guide for a fee. This has allowed the Aurora Cultural Centre programming to be more visible to a greater population. Brevik Hall with 150 seats hosts diverse programming that fills the hall a majority of the time. It is important to the Aurora Cultural Centre to continue to build audiences for emerging and established artists, while introducing the community to new artists they would never have heard of. The Aurora Cultural Centre also offers marketing support through our website to all artists renting the space. The economic impact of bringing these artists to the community resonates in salaries and consumer spends in complementary industries (food services/parking/fuel/hotel/shopping etc).

Strategic Direction 4: Foster alliances with other music cities

The Aurora Cultural Centre has relationships with artistic production and presentation organizations across Ontario, Canada and internationally as we bring artists to the community. These relationships foster understanding of what it means to present music in a small venue. Artists from across the world see Aurora as a beneficial stop in their tour because it is close to Toronto and the intimate venue gives them a very appealing opportunity to reach out to audiences up close. As the Town continues to develop this strategy, relationships built by the Aurora Cultural Centre can bring new opportunities and partnerships to the community.

Strategic Direction 5: Implement a process for monitoring progress and measuring success
This strategy talks about creating a base line to understand the music practitioner, producer and presenter community. The cultural mapping done in 2014 can provide an understanding of organizations that have musical elements of their programming. Identifying local artists is something the Aurora Cultural Centre continues to do through our programming and relationships.
